

pricing on select future purchases, extended warranty, list server membership, web site listing, Progressive Clinician Courtesy Program, and discounted educational opportunities.

These benefits are provided without additional charge to you for the first year as part of the Courtesy Affiliate Membership provided with your initial purchase. To continue receiving these benefits after the conclusion of your first year, you will need to maintain an active Affiliate Membership by purchasing a yearly renewal.

Following are detailed explanations of each of your Affiliate Membership Benefits.

EXTENDED WARRANTY

The extended warranty covers the cost of parts and labor should any unforeseen problem arise with your BrainMaster module. While everyone of our units is hand-crafted to our specifications right here in Ohio, as with all things electronic, sometimes things happen. A typical repair, if not covered by warranty or extended warranty, is subject to a minimum service fee of $100. The maximum charge for extensive repair could be many times that amount. Affiliate Members receive repairs and replacements (at our discretion) at no additional charge. A potentially huge savings.

Extended Warranties cover 12 month time periods. With your initial purchase of previously noted systems, you automatically received a courtesy extended warranty that took effect 90 days after the original 90 day warranty expired.

LIST SERVER MEMBERSHIP

Your list server membership gives your 24/7 access to experts in the industry as well as BrainMaster family members for any operational or technical ideas or suggestions others have discovered in their experience providing neurofeedback for clients. List server membership allows the new practitioner and all neurofeedback professionals, the chance to freely exchange ideas and experiences and to interact with other BrainMaster users.

WEB SITE LISTING

Our web site listing service will give you the opportunity to grow your business by advertising your practice. You may choose either a classified listing on our Affiliate Membership locator pages or you may request your own web page space in which you can place photos and a description of your practice, which you will need to provide. Your photos can include you, your staff, and a location shot. You may list your credentials, specialization, experience, and information that you feel will help new BrainMaster users and/or potential clients to find your clinic. We will provide links to your email address or your own website, if you have one. The value of this opportunity to reach the neurofeedback community alone exceeds the cost of your Affiliate Membership.

BrainMaster's web site averages thousands of visitors per month, most of whom are seeking neurofeedback guidance. Our website listings allow these clients to find trained neurofeedback practitioners locally. You may be the clinician for whom they are looking.

Clients can choose and train with clinicians who specialize in their area of need, either one-on-one in the clinician's office, or remotely from their home. If you are trying to build a Remote Training branch of your business, this is a good opportunity to attract clients who live beyond your geographical boundaries.

All website commitment, intent, and communication must be by written request only.
