

Discovery EEG:

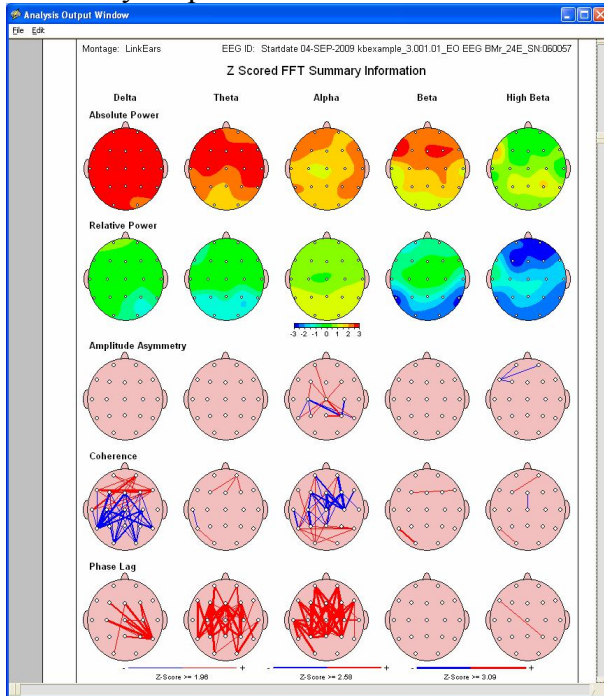

Mindset EEG:

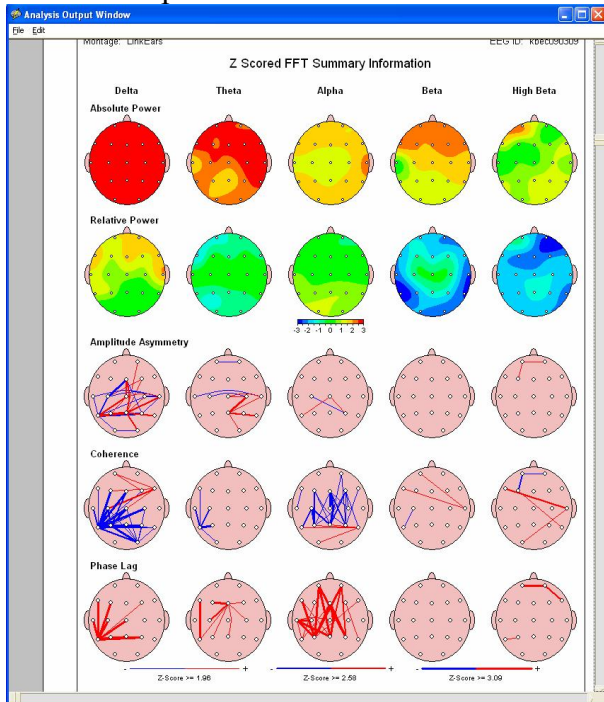

Based on a careful visual inspection, the waveforms appear identical for clinical and quantitative purposes. There is no systematic difference.

Discovery Maps:

Mindset Maps:

The observed differences between these maps are reasonable for a successive recording. Both maps tell the same “story” regarding the abnormalities of the underlying EEG. With more effort, identical maps could likely be produced, if that were the goal.